

Supplementary information (in Blue):

Each committee member will have access to one unique subset of the candidates' supplementary information (see illustrations on the right). The Search Committee should consider both the public information and the supplementary information when comparing among different candidates.

Specifically, all supplementary information is distributed in a way that allows each committee member to know most about the candidates who share the same culture background with theirs. For example, you will be able to see the supplementary information under multiple items of a U.S. candidate's CV; however, you can see the supplementary information under only 1 item of a Chinese candidate's CV.

Curriculum Vitae
Name	Contact Address
Education Background
Education Background	Location
Major
University
Supplementary Information (if any)
Research Experience
Research Experience #1	Location
Supplementary Information (if any)
Research Experience #2	Location
Supplementary Information (if any)
Research Experience #3	Location
Supplementary Information (if any)
Industrial Experience
Industrial Experience #1	Location
Supplementary Information (if any)
Industrial Experience #2	Location
Supplementary Information (if any)
Industrial Experience #3	Location
Supplementary Information (if any)

*Notes:

When you finish reading this page, please click NEXT to see the criteria of candidate evaluation.